IV. Research and Publications

IV.1. Research project

Ongoing

Bhāgavata Traditions of Maharashtra

Abstract: There is no comprehensive research work dealing with Bhāgavata Traditions of Maharashtra in present day academia. This project will produce a compendium of Bhāgavata traditions of Maharashtra. Outcome of this project will be a scholarly book having articles by scholars on known and unknown traditions of Bhāgavata Tradition flourished in Maharashtra.

It will explore how Bhāgavata traditions have gained regional specifications and how they have thrived with newer philosophical meanings. Different art traditions, textual traditions, philosophical traditions, Saptāha traditions will be explored as a part of this project.

Ongoing

“Govardhanamāhātmya in Texts and Tradition” -Sociological and Philosophical exegesis under the auspices of Minor Research Project Grant of University of Mumbai for the year 2019-20.

Abstract: Govardhanamāhātmya plays a key role in shaping the cultural notions about Vraja. This study will analyse different narratives describing the glory of Govardhana from sociological and philosophical perspective. Objective of this research is to explore the cultural history of Govardhana mountain through literary sources of Vaiṣṇavism. Govardhana is symbolic of great social process of “assimilation and acculturation” which is the crux of Hinduism. It not only proves that religion was always adaptive to include new changes and new reforms but gives the idea of all-inclusive approach of Kṛṣṇa philosophy. It will be clear from the study that Vaiṣṇavism has gone through revolutionary changes from the beginning and attained the current form. Philosophical study will throw light on the principle that how Govardhana has attained a transcendental status for devotees.

2015-2018 : Completed a research project on Interpretation of Bhāgavata Purāṇa through Narrative Analysis (selected episodes from tenth skandha) under Heras Tata doctoral fellowship

Since 2016 : Coordinating a project on “World religion and Philosophy” which comprises of articles on religions and philosophical systems across the world. This project is funded by Government of Maharashtra, India.

iii) Contribution to Springer-

Author for research articles in Encyclopaedia for Hinduism and Tribal Religions. This volume offers an overview of Hinduism as found in India and the diaspora. Exploring Hinduism in India in dynamic interaction, rather than in isolation, the volume discusses the relation of Hinduism with other religions of Indian origin and with religions which did not originate in India but have been a major feature of its religious landscape. These latter religions include Islam and Christianity and, to a lesser extent, Zoroastrianism and Judaism. The volume also covers Hinduism's close association with Tribal Religions, sometimes called Primal Religions. As its second main theme, the volume examines the phenomenon of Hinduism in the diaspora.
